

Speaker's bio for Leyla Ezdinli

Leyla Ezdinli, Ph.D., is the associate director of communications and marketing for USC's Information Technology Services division, as well as the special projects manager for the university's chief information officer.

Ms. Ezdinli is responsible for coordinating ITS's communications and programs about peer-to-peer file sharing and copyright compliance. She has a Ph.D. from Princeton University and a B.A. from Wesleyan University.